U. N. Prepares For Decision On Korea Peace

Rumored Troop Movements Are Without Influence

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 4.—The United Nations ignored today reported Russian and Communist China troop moves in the Manchuria-Vladivostok area and sped toward a decision on the western peace plan for Korea.

British and American spokesmen said many delegates felt that the rumored military movements are an attempt to influence the outcome of the balloting on the Korean issue.

No Vote Changing

They claimed, however, that no delegation has indicated its intention of changing the vote of the eight-power western plan as a result of the recurrent reports.

Forecasts are that the 60-member political committee will approve the western blueprint for nightfall. An equally substantial majority is expected to reject the peace plan offered by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson joined Britain's Kenneth Younger in driving for a decision. They urged delegates to reject efforts by Yugoslavia and India to sidetrack direct and speedy action by referring both resolutions to a sub-committee for ironing out a compromise over an indefinite period.

Conference at 4:30

Acheson scheduled a news conference with U. N. correspondents for 4:30 p. m. (EST). He will leave for Washington tonight.

The surprise of the general debate in the political committee has been the comparatively tame fight staged by the Soviet bloc against the non-Communist group. Vishinsky has kept an unruffled pace marked by brevity and lack of fire in his main speeches.

The western resolution—sponsored jointly by Britain, Australia, Brazil, Cuba, The Netherlands, Norway, Pakistan and the Philippines—calls for a powerful UN commission to prepare Korea for elections and a unified government firmly in control of the whole country.

Youth For Christ To Resume On Saturday

Following a 10-weeks rest period, New Castle Youth for Christ will resume services this coming Saturday night at the First Baptist church, North at East street, at 7:45 o'clock. Director Rev. F. Dickson Marshall will be in charge of the service, with many interesting features planned for the evening.

Thomas Clingsmith will be on the rostrum to direct the special group singing. Lt. W. Sharp, local Salvation Army director, will be playing the cornet during the service. Special vocal music will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. Jack McMillen.

The speaker of the hour will be Rev. J. C. Murphy, pastor of the Primitive Methodist church of Youngstown, former pastor of the local P. M. church on South Mill street.

Temperatures got down pretty close to the frosty point in many sections of the county last night, the official low being 38 degrees. Even colder weather is promised tonight, so if you have any tender plants you would like to keep for a while, you better cover them over this evening.

VICTIMS OF LOVER'S LANE SLAYING

AMSTERDAM, NEW YORK—Victims of a lover's lane slaying near Amsterdam, New York, were Arthur Waterman, 18, Gloversville, New York and his 17-year-old sweetheart, Jeanne Lorraine Stone. The couple were accosted as they sat in Waterman's parked car. Six bullets crashed into young Waterman's head and the slayer then fired a single bullet into the girl's head and raped her as she lay dying.

Hooded Sex Maniac Sought In Slaying Of Couple

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., Oct. 4.—(INS)—Police scoured the Amsterdam area today for a hooded sex maniac who fatally shot and raped a couple and then raped his 17-year-old girl victim as she lay dying.

Authorities identified the suspect as a 38-year-old soft-spoken Negro of medium build. They refused to name him.

The bodies of the victims—William A. Waterman, Jr., 18, and Jeanne Stone—were found near their auto in a secluded "lovers' lane" near Amsterdam.

State police said that the sex-crazed and hooded killer reportedly has accosted other couples in the area.

Kennedy Asks If He Can Name Deputy For Job

Controller Charles A. Kennedy who departs for military service at Fort Campbell, Ky., October 17, has requested Solicitor Robert McKinney White to give him an opinion stating whether he can legally appoint a deputy to perform his duties while he is in service.

According to a report one controller in the state, who recently was summoned to military service, appointed his wife as deputy.

Heretofore council has appointed successors to controllers.

Council years ago named Phil Greer to succeed the late Alvah Porter when he died, and later, council named William A. Moore to succeed Sid Lockley when Lockley entered naval service.

It has been reported that the controller has the power to name a deputy, and after he or she is bonded, council can confirm the appointment.

However, Mr. Kennedy desires to have the question clarified.

No Change In Pottery Strike

No offers of further mediation in the Shenango Pottery strike have been made by either management or union as of noon today, it is stated.

The strike has been in progress since Saturday night at midnight when the production employees struck after negotiations over a wage contract broke down.

Friday, October 6, will be pay day at the pottery and arrangements have been made to pay all employees in the office of the Credit Union.

Employer contributions to the insurance plan are due by October 15 and these also will be paid in the office of the Credit Union, by agreement.

Hurricane Heads For Virginia Coast

MIAMI, Oct. 4.—(INS)—A full-blown Atlantic hurricane set its sights on the Virginia coast today and a heavy tropical storm aimed 55-mile-an-hour squalls at northern Mexico.

The Atlantic hurricane was about 460 miles east-southeast of Norfolk, Va., at 4:30 a. m. (EST). Highest winds were estimated at 100 miles an hour and extend outward from the center for about 50 miles.

Although the howler is now pointed toward the U. S. coast, the Miami weather bureau said it probably will make a slow turn to the northeast later today and head out to sea.

Crime Takes Holiday In Pittsburgh Today

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—(INS)—Crime took a holiday today in Pittsburgh along with the strike of the city's daily newspapers.

Check of the city's police stations, detective and homicide bureaus, failed to produce one report of any crime being committed.

"Maybe because they know they can't get their name in the newspaper has something to do with it," one police officer commented.

Three Newspapers In Pittsburgh Are Still Strike-Bound

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—(INS)—No sign of a settlement of the three-day old strike by AFL Mailers that has closed Pittsburgh's three daily newspapers was in sight today.

Publishers representatives of the Sun-Telegraph, Press and Post-Gazette said at a news conference last night that no meetings are scheduled with representatives of the Mailers Union No. 22, a local of the International Typographical Union, or the AFL Teamsters Union.

But a spokesman for Local 211 of the AFL Teamsters claims drivers are prepared to haul papers if the publishers will furnish protection. The spokesman said drivers fear "bodily violence." He added that Local 211 is ready to resume negotiations with the publishers.

All non-striking employees of the three newspapers, with the exception of skeleton news staffs and maintenance workers, were furloughed without pay yesterday for the duration of the strike.

Unions representing the furloughed workers have asked for a meeting with publishers representatives for today. Purpose of the meeting was not disclosed.

The publishers of the three newspapers reported that the strike, involving a wage dispute, has idled a total of 2,000 Pittsburgh newspaper employees.

Philadelphia Is Agog As World Series Starts

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—(INS)—Baseball frenzy gripped the old Quaker City today as 2,000,000 Philadelphians cheered the Whiz Kid Phillies into the opening game of the World Series against the potent New York Yankees.

Gray skies and chilly winds failed to mar the enthusiasm of fans who hoped and prayed that the Phillies would bring home their first world championship in the series' 47-year history.

It definitely was not "business as usual." Everyone from Mayor Bernard Samuel on down was concentrating on the fall baseball classic.

Flags and bunting exhorting the Whiz Kids to "win that series" hung the most unlikely places. Even buses and trolleys shrieked messages of encouragement to the men of Manager Eddie Sawyer.

Utterly Neglected By Captors Says One Of Prisoners

By BERNARD KAPLAN
(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, Oct. 4.—The first sizeable group of American war prisoners liberated from Communist camps in Korea arrived in Tokyo today and told a story of utter neglect displayed by their Red captors.

"They didn't give a damn whether we lived or died," said Pvt. Thomas B. Anthony of Anderson, S. C., "but they were not particularly cruel."

Anthony who was wounded in both legs and had half his left ear shot away, added:

"But the worst thing—worse than the little rice we got or the wounds that never were tended—was the boredom."

Prisoner 63 Days

He spent 63 days as a prisoner of the Communists after being captured near Hadong July 27 when Red troops swarmed across southwest Korea. An Army medic, he was a member of the 29th Infantry Regiment which virtually ceased to exist after the Communists swept through the American lines.

Anthony and 45 other Americans were liberated September 28 by troops of the U. S. 25th Division.

He reported that 15 Americans taken by the Communists were killed when U. S. planes bombed a schoolhouse which the Communists used (Continued on Page Two)

Experts Sift Reports For Evidence That Chinese Reds Enter

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Military and diplomatic experts carefully sifted reports from the Far East today for evidence that might indicate Chinese Communist participation in the Korean war.

Chief attention was given to reports that large military convoys have been observed moving toward the front from the neighborhood of the Manchurian border. Manchuria is part of Communist China.

Entry of the Chinese Communists into the conflict would greatly complicate the entire Far Eastern situation and complicate the task of the United Nations in bringing about peace in the area.

Third Division Reaches Far East

(BULLETIN)

TOKYO, Oct. 4.—(INS)—American ground forces in the Far East were considerably strengthened today by the arrival of the Army's Third Infantry Division.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced that the division, which left the U. S. West Coast recently, had landed in the area of his command.

The announcement made no mention of the Third Division's present location but it was presumed it has not reached Korea.

Its arrival brought to seven the number of American divisions now identified as situated in the Far Eastern theater.

Plane Operations In Korea Hampered By Weather

(BULLETIN)

TOKYO, Oct. 4.—(INS)—Low clouds and rain hampered air operations against enemy targets in North Korea today.

The scheduled dawn takeoff of fighter planes in continuing strikes against enemy communication lines was delayed because of rain in Japan and over the target area.

Up until midnight last night bombers and fighters continued their strikes despite poor flying weather.

Increased Red Activity

An air force spokesman said night reconnaissance by a superfort disclosed increased activity by Communist ground troops in the northeast coastal area above Wonsan which the Reds are believed to be preparing for an all-out defense.

An air force communique, covering operations Tuesday, said planes concentrated on targets north of the 38th parallel "as little activity was noted south of that line where ground forces were mopping up scattered elements."

Of 459 sorties flown Tuesday only 27 were in close support of ground troops.

Reds In Austria Suffer Setback In Strike Move

By MARVIN STONE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

VIENNA, Oct. 4.—A Communist threat to overthrow the Austrian government faded away today in the face of a determined show of force.

Only 20,000 workers answered the Red call for a general strike. Threatened seizure of public utilities and government buildings failed to materialize in the face of 25,000 steel-helmeted police armed with rifles. Socialist party anti-riot squads also patrolled the streets.

Minor Demonstrations

Only in a few cities was the surface tranquility marred by minor demonstrations. In Vienna, the government confiscated the Communist newspaper and arrested 30 persons including the daughter and wife of Johann Koplenig, chairman of Austria's Communist party. They were picked up for trying to tie up street car traffic.

Russian support, which had been counted on heavily by the Communists, was absent despite the Soviet backing of the country-wide riots the Reds staged in the past two weeks in protest over the wage and price question.

Guerrillas Are Active In South Korea

TAEGU, Korea, Oct. 4.—(INS)—Increased guerrilla activity in liberated areas of South Korea was reported today by a broken military advisory group officer.

He said skirmishes are occurring almost nightly in recaptured towns and villages throughout South Korea.

Three police stations were raided and burned in the Yongdok area on the east coast, this officer reported, and three South Korean policemen were killed and five wounded.

The officer asserted:

"I have no doubt that the retreating Communists have left many groups behind to carry on this work."

He reported that the South Korean government plans to detail 10,000 police and at least six army battalions to ferret out and destroy the enemy sneak attackers.

The two most active guerrilla areas, the officer said, are near Taegu and in the Chiri mountains of southwest Korea.

North Koreans Preparing For Strong Defense

New Forces Being Moved Into Position To Resist Advance

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Oct. 4.—South Korean troops penetrated 58 miles inside North Korea today after seizing the east coastal town of Kosong but the Communists moved large new forces into position for an expected strong defense of their homeland.

On the west side of the peninsula, a fresh Red division and a brigade were thrown into battle against American marines who nevertheless captured pivotal Uijongbu, 17 miles below the 38th parallel and 12 miles above Seoul.

A broadcast by the Communist radio at Pyongyang, capital of North Korea, quoted the Red high command at 11 p. m. as reporting Communist troops were counter-attacking marines northwest of Seoul.

Dash 20 Miles

Beyond Kosong, South Korean Third Division spearheads dashed nearly 20 additional miles forward to within 52 miles of Wonsan, major North Korean port commanding rail and sea lanes to Manchuria and Siberia.

But an estimated 20,000 or more Communist troops were reported massing in the Wonsan area while on the opposite side of North Korea other Red reinforcements were moving down toward the enemy capital of Pyongyang.

A fifth Air Force communique reported that a B-26 pilot sighted 150 enemy vehicles moving south near Tokchon which lies 50 miles north of Pyongyang and 60 miles (Continued on Page Seven)

Doctor-Draft To Be Approved By President

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN ON CHESAPEAKE BAY, Oct. 4, President Truman is expected to sign a proclamation today authorizing the drafting of doctors and dentists under 50 years of age.

The proclamation's form and effective date will become known when Mr. Truman performs the ceremony aboard the yacht Williamsburg on which he is taking a week's vacation cruise in Chesapeake Bay.

Some sources reported that the volunteer-or-be-drafted law might become effective immediately. Others, however, said there might be a delay of 30 or 45 days to permit medics to wind up their affairs.

Congressional sources indicated the draft might become effective October 16.

Mark First Year For Auxiliary

Present Program At City Mission

City Mission auditorium was filled to capacity, Tuesday evening, when the Women's Auxiliary marked the first year of its existence with a special program. President of the Mission Auxiliary, Mrs. Kenneth Lutz, was in charge of the impressive birthday program.

A song service opened the meeting, with Rev. Howard Munn, pastor of the First United Brethren church conducting the devotional period. A trio from the Alliance Tabernacle, composed of Mesdames Avery, Rigby, Sr., Charles Robinson, Sr., and Robert Hanna, Sr., pleased with a vocal selection. Rev. and Mrs. F. D. Marshall, directors of the Mission both spoke briefly thanking the women of the churches of New Castle for their loyal support of the Mission and their supplying of many needs, including towels, linens and bedding for use in the Mission.

Mrs. Charles McIlrath of the Alliance church pleased with a solo number, "Wonderful Peace," accompanied by her daughter, Buena Vista McIlrath. Rev. Munn was called upon to sing and he pleased with "He Knows the Way," aided at the piano by Mrs. F. D. Marshall. Preceding the address of the evening, Mrs. Mont Rodgers, chaplain, distributed "silver tea bags" for the women to place in their kitchen as they remember the needs of the Mission.

The speaker of the hour was Rev. M. H. Hall, pastor of the Portersville Presbyterian church who selected for his timely thought, "Christ's Mission and Ours." He took the basis for his sermon from Acts, pointing out the necessity to be good witnesses. He chose the manifold works of Christ as an illustration pointing out that Christ went about doing good and that we likewise should follow His example.

Following the program, refreshments were served by members of the auxiliary to the assembly. The next regular meeting of the auxiliary is planned for Tuesday, November 7, at the Mission, when sewing and other work will be accomplished.

Church Women Will Register

Be one of the first million women to take part in the ecumenical register of church women. What is the goal? The goal is to register at least a million church women and to bring to the National Assembly, which will meet in Cincinnati, O., November 13-16, 1950. Millions To See Game

Throughout the nation, some 38,000,000 fans sat by their television sets to watch five cameras catch every facet of the games. Central city hotels were crowded with baseball officials and players and a banner turnout of sports writers. Other prospective spectators over-flowed into hotels or private homes in outlying sections.

Even the Army caught the spirit of the occasion. Lenient officers at Camp Atterbury, Ind., granted a special furlough permitting Pfc. Curt Simmons, the Phillies star left-handed pitcher, to be in active service with the 28th Infantry Division.

The betting gentry established the Yankees as 1-40 favorites to repeat their 1949 championship.

But Philadelphians, who spent more than one and a quarter million dollars to watch the Phillies this season, thought otherwise. Win or lose, the Quaker City will never forget that the 1950 Phillies brought the town its first National League pennant in 35 years.

COWS NEED ROOMY STALLS AND PLENTY OF BEDDING

Improper stabling and lack of good bedding are the most common cause of test injuries in cows. Stalls should be wide enough and long enough for the cow to recline and get up without bruising or otherwise injuring the teats and udder. Similarly, bedding should cover the stall floor completely so as to give the udder a thick, protective cushion. A generous supply of good bedding, such as straw or other material, also helps to protect the udder against chilling.

March 63 To Seoul

The next day 63 prisoners who were able to walk were marched to Seoul. Later nine wounded Americans died at Hadong, not from mistreatment according to Anthony but "from no treatment at all."

"Anthony and another medic were allowed to use medical supplies they had with them to treat the wounded," said Pfc. Joseph Boyd of Logan, Utah.

"They kept washing bandages over and over trying to keep them fairly clean but after they gave out there was nothing left."

Boyd, once a strapping 215-pounder lost 70 pounds during his imprisonment. He said a civilian Korean doctor visited the stockade in the early days of the captivity but stopped and anyway he only "brought rubbing alcohol and looked at a couple of the boys."

Ask If We Liked Communism

Like boys most of the Americans captured at Hadong were 19 or 20 years old and had less than a year in the Army.

"They did not beat us or torture us," said 19-year-old Paul Franks, a slight youth from Cleveland, O., who was wounded in the shoulder.

"But I was scared a couple of times when they came in at night and asked if we liked communism. 'Everybody just said 'no'—just like that. Nobody would say they liked communism. The Reds waved burp guns they always carried but did not fire."

Franks said these clumsy efforts were the only attempts made at Communist indoctrination.

Both Amsterdam victims were shot in the head. Their bodies were found Monday, about 12 hours after the young sweethearts were killed.

Police said the strawberry blonde girl, daughter of a carpet weaver, had been dragged about 30 feet from her boyfriend's auto and partially stripped. Some of her clothing, including blue jeans, panties and loafer shoes, had been torn from her body.

Young Waterman was shot six times in the head, neck and shoulders. Police said his body had been dragged from the car, apparently so that the killer could reach his sweetheart.

Which Funeral Director Would You Choose . . . ?

One of the chief reasons why we publish these messages, and why we invite questions about funeral service and its cost, is the great need for just such information.

Because funeral service is so seldom required, many people have little knowledge of the changes and improvements that have taken place. Also, in this community there have been several changes in management of funeral establishments during the last few years.

One day you may have occasion to select one of these firms to serve you. It is well to know their qualifications. There is no charge for consultation, nor are you under any obligation to us when you ask for information.

The honoree received many lovely gifts. Hostess for the evening was Helen M. Cruelle, and brides, Mrs. Mary Cruelle, Mrs. Eva Mroz, Mrs. Josephine Crenney, Mrs. Piccari, Mrs. Eleanor Hamilton and Mary Ann Peccardo.

BEAUMIER-PISKUR MARRIAGE EVENT

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beaumier, Hubbard, O., announce the marriage of their only daughter, Marieanne, to Edward R. Piskur, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Piskur, Girard, O. The bride is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hammond of the Mercer road, New Castle.

St. Patrick's church, Hubbard, was the scene of the double ring ceremony on September 23 at nine a. m., with Rev. Fr. Robert Moorehead reading the service.

Given in marriage by her father, the petite bride wore a gown of ivory satin, designed princess style along simple lines. A Chinese lace yoke featured the bodice and the full skirt ended in a train. A fingertip veil, edged with Chinese lace, was held to a beaded coronet. The bride carried white roses and stephanotis and wore an heirloom lavallier.

Miss Millie E. Piskur, the groom's sister, was maid of honor, wearing bronze green satin with hat to match. Her flowers were Talisman roses. Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Jo Ann Thomas of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Ella Marie Budno of Hubbard, both cousins of the bride. They were identically attired in shrimp satin gowns with matching hats and had yellow Golden Rapture roses.

Old R. Piskur, Jr., of Sharon, eldest brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Rudy J. and Albert E. Piskur, also brothers of the groom.

Organist Mrs. Weitz accompanied Mrs. David Sutor, the soloist in presenting appropriate nuptial music.

The Rumanian hall in Hubbard was the scene of the wedding reception with 200 guests attending.

After a wedding trip to an un-revealed destination, Mr. and Mrs. Piskur will live at the home of the bride's parents.

MARY McBRIDE WEDS ARTHUR WILLIAMS

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Williams are now "at home" at R. D. 1, Enon Valley, following their honeymoon to Washington, D. C., and points east. Mrs. Williams is the former Miss Mary McBride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McBride, R. D. 1, New Galilee, and Mr. Williams is the son of Mrs. Shirley Williams of R. D. 1, Enon Valley.

The young couple exchanged wedding vows in the Bethel United Presbyterian church Saturday, September 23, at 7:30 o'clock, with Rev. Willard George officiating at the single ring ceremony. Lovely fall flowers and branched candelabra decorated the church altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white Japanese silk that had been a gift to her from her brother when he was stationed in Japan.

The fitted Chantilly lace bodice was fashioned with a dainty Queen Anne collar and long sleeves came to points at the wrists. Tiny covered buttons featured the bodice front from the neck to the waistline, with the full skirt being of floor length. Her fingertip veil, edged with Chantilly lace, cascaded from a Juliet cap and she carried out the something old, new, borrowed and blue theme. Her cascade bouquet of white mums was centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Ethel McConnell attended her sister as matron of honor. She was gowned in yellow net, with the bodice dramatized by a drape effect at the yoke. Tiny flowers caught up the hoop skirt at intervals and she wore a matching hat of net. She carried an arm bouquet of rust colored mums.

Bridesmaid was Miss Ann Davis of Wampum, who wore a green net gown styled like that of the matron of honor. Her headpiece was a wreath of yellow baby mums and she carried a bouquet of the same flowers. Each attendant wore a rhinestone necklace.

Don Williams served his brother as best man, while Sam McBride, brother of the bride and Russell Strohecker ushered.

Appropriate nuptial music was played by Mrs. Marian Cyrus, friend of the bride from New Middletown, O.

A reception was held in the church parlor following the ceremony. Mrs. Edwin McKim, aunt of the bride, cut the wedding cake with a knife owned by Mrs. Dale Gwin.

The bride, a graduate of the Mt. Jackson high school and the Providence Hospital School of Nursing in Beaver Falls, is a nurse at the same hospital. The groom, a graduate of the Enon high school and a veteran of four years in the marines, is employed with a local mining company.

Hi-Mi-Tri society will gather in First Christian church Friday afternoon, Oct. 6, at 4 o'clock, when Mrs. Frank Hoover will be in charge of the program. "Home Missions" will be the meeting's theme. Mrs. L. Loy will be the hostess.

CONLEY-BARKER BEAUTIFUL RITE

A charming autumn bride was Miss Jacqueline Conley as she was united in marriage with Raymond Barker on Saturday, September 30.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Charlotte Conley of 938 Marshall avenue, and the late William Conley. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Barker, Greely avenue, Etna, Pittsburgh.

Scene of the impressive double ring ceremony was the All Saints Roman Catholic church of Etna, with Rev. Fr. Francis Hoffman hearing the exchange of wedding vows at 10 o'clock. Glowing candles, ferns, palms, and bouquets of white asters and gladioli decorated the church altar for the occasion.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her brother, Ralph E. Conley, the attractive bride appeared in a gown of white nylon marquisette. Her molded bodice was accomplished by a dainty Peter Pan collar and long tapered sleeves. Two wide ruffles of nylon lace enhanced the full skirt at the hemline and the short train of the creation. A sweetheart coronet caught up her net illusion fingertip veil, trimmed with pearl-centered lace medallions. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, lily-of-the-valley, and ivy.

Miss Doris Barker, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore with charm a mint green satin gown, with nylon lace adding back interest to the bodice and cap sleeves. A Peter Pan collar and satin helmet, trimmed with net and pearls, were additional accents of the costume. She carried a cascade bouquet of asters, roses, and delphiniums.

Bridesmaids included Mrs. Glena Sengstange and Mrs. Beverly Furlong Flamingo, who were gowned in lovely creations of burnt gold satin. Their gowns were styled identical to that of the maid of honor, and their cascade bouquets were composed of asters, roses, and delphiniums.

Sandy Conley, niece of the bride, was flower girl for the ceremony. She was sweet in a gown of mint green satin, featured with a lace yoke trimmed with a lace ruffle, and she wore a headpiece of satin to match the dress. Mixed fall flowers and roses filled her basket.

William Bragg served his cousin as best man, with Thomas Barker, brother of the groom, and Joseph Mertz as ushers.

The church choir and organist provided appropriate nuptial selections during the ceremony. A wedding reception was held in the All Saints hall from 8 o'clock to midnight. The couple later departed for a honeymoon to Chicago by plane.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Barker will be "at home" at 74 Griesmer avenue, Etna, Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Barker, a graduate of the Shenango high school, is a service representative at the Bell Telephone company business office. Mr. Barker, a graduate of the Etna high school, attended Fairmont State Teachers' college and Duquesne university, and is now an installer for the Western Electric company.

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK

With a government that is representative of and responsive to the will of the people and with universal education that gives our people the knowledge to govern themselves through these representatives, America has grown strong by virtue of private enterprise and the sanctity of the individual.

These phrases are synonyms for freedom—freedom to the individual to choose his own career and to follow his "pursuit of happiness" without fear of governmental interference as long as he does not overstep the license of private enterprise by encroaching upon the same rights and liberties guaranteed to others.

The American newspaper is a private enterprise and has consistently fought for the rights of the individual—big or little. Many times it has been the spokesman for those who have been "down-trodden" by selfish individuals seeking to misuse the right of private enterprise. On the other hand, the American press has never compromised its principles for foreign "isms" that have endeavored to uproot our system of private enterprise and to submerge the individual in favor of a "master state."

Some theorists have argued that the press should be an agency of the government, not a private enterprise that must operate for profit to exist. However, the American people have insisted that its press remain unconditionally free to report current events accurately and without bias, and governmental ownership of newspapers carries with it the ominous possibility of governmental censorship.

History proves that control of the press is one of the first objectives of a dictator. We are protecting our representative form of government and our precept of universal education when we protect the right of the press to publish the truth and to keep its columns open for a free expression of public opinion.

Thus it is fitting that 1950 National Newspaper Week should have as its slogan "American Newspapers—Truth to a Free People." And when the day by day record of the American press is studied—and shortcomings weighed against accomplishments, the honest critic will agree with the statement that, "We are singularly fortunate, among all peoples, in having the best newspapers in the entire world."

SAFEST MONTH OF YEAR

The safest month of the year?
 Wait—don't dash for your almanac. The National Safety Council has the answer. It's April.

Last year February had 50 fewer deaths than April, but because of two less days in that month, April had a lower daily average, according to the 1950 edition of "Accident Facts," the Council's statistical yearbook. There were 6,800 deaths in February and 6,850 in April. The monthly average for the entire year was 7,600.

July was the peak month for accidents in 1949. There were 8,900 accidental deaths in that single month—1,300 more than the average.

MORE THAN PLANES NEEDED

When the chief of staff of the Air Force says that air power alone cannot win a war, he invites attention. The statement comes from Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg in an interview. This is utterly contrary to the impression given by some aviation enthusiasts, who imply that a nation with great air superiority would not need anything else. They think fliers could bomb the enemy's supplies and forces out of existence. This extreme view General Vandenberg completely rejects.

No matter how many planes we have, some hostile bombers are bound to get through to attack us. When Germany was at the peak of her power, the Luftwaffe could not stop our bombers. We must expect the same situation today.

This supports the view that there is no panacea, no one device or equipment which will make us invincible. If war came, we should have to expect grave losses before the final victory would be ours.

EMPTY REVENGE

Ruthless murder of American prisoners of war by the North Koreans has aroused worldwide indignation, and has resulted in demands from many quarters that those guilty, regardless of rank, be summarily punished. Such assurance has been given, and one of the first matters to come before any peace body will be orders arresting the murderers, who will undoubtedly pay with their own lives.

To date more than 100 American soldiers have been machine-gunned to death. Undoubtedly others will be found. Disposing of prisoners of war by execution is a violation of the international rules of war as well as considerations of human decency.

During World War II Japs and Germans murdered prisoners of war almost at will. Many of the chief perpetrators of those atrocities paid for their crimes with their lives.

But there will be little comfort in punishing the murderers. Nothing can bring back the boys who were slain. The whole country of Korea is not worth the life of one American soldier. They are sent to the far places of the world, to fight that American freedom may be kept secure, and to which, as in Korea, they must "give their last full measure of devotion."

Germany, Japan and Italy wanted more space. But Russia just wants more.

The meek may inherit the earth, but the boys in the Kremlin do not proceed on that theory.

In View Of News Of The World

Wonsan Was Valuable Port

North Korean Communist forces streaming to Wonsan in disordered retreat with victorious South Republic liberation troops hard on their heels sought refuge in a devastated port which long was one of the most valuable Red outposts in Asia. Just what remains of Wonsan at this moment is open to question.

The moment that B29 bombers of the Far Eastern air force were able to go into action on the basis of the punitive anti-Communist resolution adopted by the United Nations Security Council, Wonsan was chosen as primary target.

Of Great Importance
 It was regarded as of even greater importance than Pyongyang—the North Korean Communist capital—and there was reason for this strategic choice.

Wonsan, known as Genzan during the half century when Korea was occupied and ruled by its Japanese overlords, is one of the few ice-free ports in northeast Asia.

It lies midway between Pusan, the first objective of United Nations troops which stepped in to free South Korea after the Communist invasion last June, and Vladivostok, kinship of Soviet strength in Siberia.

With its deep and spacious harbor and the war factories built or expanded during the five years of Communist rule in the north, Wonsan represents an almost irreplaceable stronghold of Red domination on the sea of Japan.

Across From Japan
 It is directly across this body of water from the strategic Japanese base of Tsingtao, whose resources were utilized by Gen. Douglas MacArthur in mounting his assaults against the peninsula. The Red retreat toward and into Wonsan has raised the question of to what extent the South Korean Republicans are going to proceed with attempted unification of the country.

Originally, the United Nations plan was to have this reunion of Korean brother and brother carried out by a commission to be appointed by the General Assembly.

But there now is every indication that the impetuous South Korean dash across the 38th parallel will necessitate a general reorientation of plans and it may bring up a problem now quite unequalled in the peace-making history of the United Nations.

In Palestine, the late Count Folke Bernadotte and UN authorities were faced with a conflict that stemmed far back into history—a

They Say

WASHINGTON—Former secretary of state Cordell Hull: "Grave difficulties and dangers still confront us on all sides. But I am certain . . . the U. S. will steadily grow in strength and capacity to fulfill its general function, the preservation of international peace and security."

NEW YORK—Warren Austin, U. S. ambassador to the United Nations on Russia's atom control plan: "We will not make our honor with well-known duplicity in a fraudulent scheme that appears to prohibit atomic weapons without actually doing it."

SCHOHARIE, N. Y.—New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey: "No gangster or big-time system of organized corruption can operate unless the heads of it have friends, greased friends, in high places."

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. VA.—John M. Hancock, former U. S. delegation member to the U. N. atomic energy commission: "I just don't believe, on the basis of existing evidence, that Russia can make atom bombs today . . ."

LIGHT ON THE BUG ISSUE

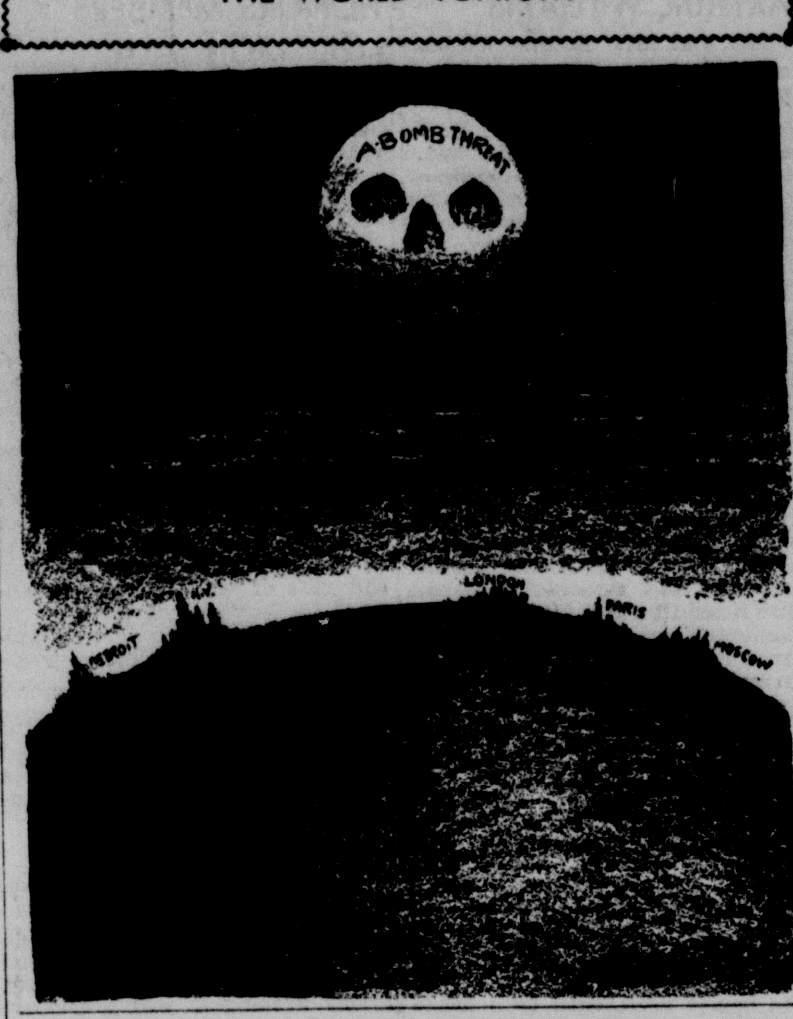

When clouds of potato bugs appeared in East Germany this summer, the communists charged they had been deliberately dropped from American airplanes.

Our government issued the customary indignant denial. It neglected to add that if we had been dropping anything for free it would have been potatoes, not potato bugs. Any bugs we had were needed at home.

Under the U. S. potato support program, we buy 75,000,000 bushels of spuds annually at prices around $1 a bushel and sell 'em back to the growers at less than a cent a bushel. Any fool can see it would save money to let the bugs eat them right in the field.

When the same mystery bugs invaded Britain, our English friends investigated instead of popping off about Wall Street. They quickly found that the invaders were coming into that country on vegetable cargoes.

'THE WORLD TONIGHT'

Critical Target Areas

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Federal officials estimated today that 100 million U. S. citizens live in "critical target areas" which must be able to withstand A-bomb attacks more severe than those made on Japan in World War II.

This warning was issued to the governors of the 48 states in the form of highly secret maps showing the industrial, metropolitan and defense areas which constitute the "most profitable targets" for an enemy bombing fleet.

The national security resources board estimated that 67 per cent of the nation's population lives in these key target zones in which cities must organize "mobile support" teams, pool resources and prepare voluntarily to assist one another in an A-bomb disaster.

The NSRB added that the remaining 33 per cent of the U. S. population living in areas less likely to be attacked, must build civil defense units to rush aid to critical target centers.

Although the map distributed to governors is classified, officials said it shows three types of critical target areas. They are:

Three Types
 Type I—Areas containing one or more industrial counties with at least 40,000 industrial workers. These were designated as the best targets for an aggressor.

Type II—Areas consisting of one county or groups of contiguous counties having 20,000 or more industrial workers.

James J. Wadsworth, acting director of the federal civil defense office, held closed-door conferences today with civil defense chiefs from 26 states east of the Mississippi. He met Monday with state directors from western states.

The eastern government's failure to institute a program for loyalty checks on volunteer civil defense personnel and demanded early decisions on whether Washington is going to supply equipment, medical stockpiles and war risk insurance.

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER

BONNIE KLABBER

That is a good old fashioned name for thick sour milk. Butch likes it with lots of sugar on it and maybe a little cinnamon.

Milk is good for boys in all its different forms.
 Sweet milk, sour milk, ice cream and cottage cheese are just a few of the many varieties.

Babies need it, boys and girls need it, old people need it. It could be fine if everyone could have a pint every day.

Children need more than that.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

There is one individual here in Lawrence County who will be all set for outdoor Christmas decorations . . . in fact, he has been ready since December 25, 1949 . . . evidently in order to save time he just left the Greeting sign up that he used last Christmas . . . to be first with the greeting this Christmas . . . In the meantime he has reminded many people that it is well to remember the goodwill throughout the year just as many do during the Holiday season . . . this item of decoration may be seen on the Poland road . . . just beyond Parkstown Corners . . . on the left traveling West.

When the road builders get through . . . that is IF some of them ever do get through . . . the network of highways leading to and from this community will be in rather fine shape . . . right now and all through the past summer (need we remind you) it has been almost impossible to travel east. The Holderman organization that is doing the big job of road building between here and the Dixie Inn are really going to town . . . The work is ahead of schedule and with proper weather conditions this bottle neck will be cleared up before too much longer.

The contractor doing the Harlansburg road has had all the trouble that one man can have . . . slowdown on materials due to strikes and shortages . . . quick sand in quantities that would swallow up a house and barn . . . But time will cure all his troubles . . . and the men working on that road will probably remember this County for years to come.

And Mr. Martin of the Highway department in Lawrence County . . . we have had this to say for a few weeks but the occasion never was here when we were to say or something to that effect . . . anyhow we thank you and your men for deslipping the back road to New Wilmington . . . the job should and has made it easier to operate a motor vehicle during wet weather. All blacktop roads should be checked for "slippery when wet conditions" and the abrasive added.

Happy motoring . . . safe motoring . . . Free to motor where you want, an American privilege usually taken for granted.

The Pentagon Revisited

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 4.—If you've ever visited a home where there's been a violent divorce and where a new wife has just taken charge of the children, the servants and the household effects—you'll know how things are at the Pentagon since Gen. Marshall replaced Louis Johnson.

Things there, let us say at once, are neither better nor worse at this early stages. They're just different—and different in the subtle way that even a living room looks different when a new feminine hand has smoothed the sofa cushion.

To express this almost symbolic sense of change, we switch you now to Rep. Dewey Short, the jolly Missouri Republican who is never at a loss for several hundred well-chosen words. Among Short's oft-repeated observations on life is this one: "There never was a preacher who thought his congregation was too big—or a general who thought he had enough men in his army."

Kernel Of Change

Right there we have the kernel of the chief change which has come over the Pentagon since it passed from civilian to military control. Like most successful men from the business world, Johnson didn't like to see two men and a boy assigned to every task that one man could readily fulfill. Like most Army officers, Marshall is accustomed to having seats of staff personnel around him. Yesterday I encountered a friendly brigadier general with desk space within shouting distance of Marshall's office. "What's your new assignment, sir?" I asked him with the military punction of an inactive reservist. "Don't have any," he said. "I doubt if Gen. Marshall even knows I'm here." They also serve who only stand and wait!

By pressing the analogy of a divorce-broken home, we come to some other observations. Who played the part of the "other women" in Johnson's dramatic departure? The gossips of the Pentagon corridors are murmuring the name of Gen. Omar Bradley as the person who separated Johnson from White House affection. When things looked dark in Korea, Bradley did not altogether conceal his opinion that the Johnsonian economics were to blame. Just how valid this complaint is may be judged from facts about the Inchon landing which are available but not over-publicized at the Pentagon. Logistic figures reveal that every soldier and every piece of equipment that landed at Inchon were on hand and available on that fateful day of June 24th when the Reds invaded South Korea.

Worried Over What Happens After

Why, then did Bradley come between Johnson and the President? The answer seems to be that Bradley was not too worried about Korea. He was worrying about what would happen after K-V day. Would Johnson resume his civilian-minded economics in the Armed Services? Would Congress tighten the purse-strings? Would the nation set up a sentimental demand to bring the boys home from Asia for Thanksgiving turkey? These matters, I believe, even more than Johnson's alleged quarrel with Secretary Acheson, were grounds for the Truman-Johnson divorce.

There are other aspects to the change of atmosphere in the big mansion on the Potomac. A good deal of affectionate chucking now obtains at the mention of Gen. MacArthur's name whereas his name used to be the signal for solemn head-shaking. It seems that the Man of Destiny handled the Tokyo-based newspaper correspondents so foxily that they were viewing the war scene with alarm at the very moment MacArthur was preparing to break the back of the Red invasion. The result was a dramatic and unexpected triumph which tremendously increased the MacArthur prestige.

He Have Greater Influence

He is now so fully recovered from the unfortunate Formosa episode that he may have greater influence in Asian affairs than ever before. It seems improbable that he will get his way about occupying Formosa, his pet project. But MacArthur's voice will be a strong one in the related question of disarming and dissolving Red Koreans as a mobile fighting force for Communism.

So how to summarize the changes in the Pentagon? Three words will almost do the job—Marshall, Bradley and MacArthur. Between the three of them they wear 15 Army stars which is quite a galaxy. The atmosphere at the Pentagon may be properly described as star-studded. In the past the Brass Hats were working under a civilian boss and thus under the auspices of the civilian population. But now the Brass is working under the Brass. That makes quite a difference.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

While I have great respect and admiration for Bette Davis as a movie actress, I certainly disagree with her as a philosopher.

She recently expressed her regret that Hollywood is now making a fetish of 18-year-old heroines.

"Anybody at that age is the dulliest person," she is quoted as having said.

Since it is not so long since she was 18 herself, Bette really ought to know better.

Her official age is 42. She started to prepare for her career while still in her teens. At 23 she was already a well-known actress. She has won two Oscars, the first one when she was only 27.

Was SHF "The dulliest person" at 18?

Or was she full of ambition, full of dreams, full of thrills, excitement, adventure at that age?

Eighteen a "dull" age?

At eighteen Youth is at its most interesting and interested stage.

If you, as you read this, are older than 18, I hope you will still remember yourself at that high point of YOUR life.

Do you recall these days?

Do you remember how you were dreaming of the shining knight yet to come, or the glamor girl whose knight YOU were to be?

Do you remember the terrific problems that were so agonizing then and seem so insignificant today?

Every now and then I have the rare pleasure of meeting some eighteen-year-old and having to cope with his or her youthful wisdom and curiosity.

Believe me, it is not easy to answer their questions, to share their enthusiasms, their vigor their positiveness.

Having reached that part of my life which is so optimistically called "middle age" or "prime of life" I feel like an old, old man when one of those eighteen-year-old conquerors is around.

Bible Thought

We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak and not to please ourselves. Let every one of us please his neighbor for his good to edification.—Rom. 15:1, 2.

HOARDING THE WRONG KIND OF SUPPLIES

A famous report made by the general services administration in Washington showed that one government bureau has accumulated enough light bulbs to last 93 years. Another agency has a 247-year supply of those leaf binders and enough filler paper for 168 years. The government also has 4 million desks, twice as many as it needs.

It's too bad that a little of the same kind of hoarding was not practiced to supply our army in Korea with suitable tanks, artillery and other equipment.—Chicago Tribune.

Just Folks

THE NARROW LIFE

He saw but little beauty here. To gaze he seldom slowed his pace.

The price of rapture seemed too dear. His heart was in the market place.

The moon and stars were common things. The flowers for women folk were meant.

A bird with gaily colored wings. Unnoticed by his window went.

Minutes were precious. None he found. To spend to hear a cardinal sing.

Unto his ear the sweetest sound. Was this: to hear the cash box ring.

He was successful in his way. Of that assurance men will give. But scolding beauty, night and day.

Seems such a narrow way to live. (Copyright, 1950, Edgar A. Guest)

Tag Day For Deshon HereAnnual Campaign For Hospital Is Planned

Saturday will be "Dimes for Deshon" Day in New Castle. James A. Bell, chairman of the Dimes for Deshon committee, announced today. On this occasion the annual solicitation for funds to provide magazines and other extras for the patients confined at the Veterans hospital at Deshon, near Butler, will be made.

The Dimes for Deshon committee is composed of representatives of all veterans groups and their auxiliaries. Last year a total of $773.40 was realized from the annual tag day with expenses totaling $88.86.

From the net receipts, $547.75 was spent for magazines and $65 for church programs, leaving only a small balance in the treasury at the present time.

With the funds raised the Dimes for Deshon committee has provided 55 weekly magazines and 147 monthly magazines for the boys at the hospital. The committee is hoping that they will receive the same generous response again this Saturday from the public as has been accorded them in the past.

Edwin Lewis will bring beautiful organ music and the message each Thursday will be delivered by the pastor of the church, Rev. J. A. Gaiser.

LUMBER PRICES LOWER

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(INS)—Retail dealers reported that lumber prices have begun to decline after a steady upward advance since the middle of last year. They said that prices have dropped as much as 15 per cent in the New York City area during the past week and indicated that further cuts may be expected. The downward trend was attributed to government curbs on home building credit and the high level of lumber production.

Tommy Henrich Out Of Series

Old Pro Benched
With Bad Knee

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—(INS)—Even before the first pitch of today's world series opener, the fellow who won last year's first game is the forgotten man of 1950. Tommy Henrich, the guy whose ninth-inning homer gave the Yankees a 1 to 0 win over the Dodgers last time around, will be missing from this year's classic. The Yankees asked and received permission to use Johnny Hopp in Henrich's stead, because of old reliable's chronic bad knee.

End Of Trail

Henrich, who gave the Yankees all he had for 12 years, apparently has reached the end of the trail. The 34-year-old outfielder-first baseman, who would have been in his fifth series, took the sideling like a Yankee. "I guess a fellow on one leg can't do much hitting," he said. "Anything Casey wants is okay with me."

Although seriously handicapped by various aches and pains in 1949 Henrich managed to play 115 games and hit .287.

This season Henrich appeared in only 72 games and batted .272. He had six homers and batted in 34 runs.

Not much for a player salaried at over $40,000.

Will the Yankees pay that much for a fellow on one leg who "can't do much hitting" next season?

BASIC STEPS IN ANIMAL DISEASE PREVENTION

All efforts to stop the spread of contagious animal diseases should center on these three procedures: (1) Immediately isolate sick animals from well ones. (2) Have the trouble diagnosed without delay. (3) After isolation quarters are vacated, thoroughly disinfect and air them before occupancy by healthy stock.

Amount of steel produced in the United States during 10 weeks in the spring of 1950 was 191 tons a minute—enough to make a solid block of steel twice the size of the Empire State building.

Bares Draft Needs

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey

APPEARING before the House Armed Services Committee in Washington, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, declares that men with dependents and veterans under 26 must be drafted if the nation is to have a 3,000,000-man armed force. These two classes are now exempt. (International)

DANGER SEASON FOR PRUSSIC ACID POISONING

This is the time of year for stockmen to keep a close watch for signs of prussic acid poisoning in cattle. Prussic acid, which contains deadly cyanide, is likely to be present in plants damaged by whitening, bruising, or frost. Second growths that come up after early frosts are another source of such poisoning. Questionable pastures should be vacated, or first tried out on a few of the least valuable animals before use by the whole herd. If any of the test animals start to stagger as if drunk, poisoning should be suspected and there should be no delay in getting immediate diagnosis and treatment.

below the Manchurian border. An Air Force spokesman has "a good deal of movement" has been noted recently near Tokchon which is on the main north-south road through Korea.

Intensive Punishment
The Red troop movements were in progress under intensive punishment by Allied airmen who demolished or crippled 75 enemy vehicles, one tank, seven locomotives and 45 rail cars north of the 38th parallel Tuesday.

An International News Service dispatch from Taegu reported sharply increased enemy guerrilla activity in liberated areas of South Korea.

A Korean military advisory group officer said three police stations were raided and burned in the Yongdok area on the east coast and that the guerrillas were very active near Taegu and in the Chiri mountains of southwest Korea.

He said the South Korean government planned to use 10,000 police and at least six army battalions to wipe out the guerrillas.

No Answer to MacArthur
Indications mounted that the only answer the Pyongyang government would give to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's four-day-old surrender ultimatum would be an attempted protracted defense of the enemy's home territory.

Amid these signs of an enemy decision to gamble on a fight to the finish, Gen. MacArthur disclosed Wednesday that his United Nations forces have been augmented by the arrival of the U. S. Army's Third Division.

The supreme commander announced that the division reached his Far East command area from the United States west coast. He did not state the unit's present location, but it was believed the division had not yet landed in Korea.

Enemy Suffers Heavy Losses
The Communists appeared to have considerable reserves, including at least three fresh army divisions, available for such action, despite the enormous manpower and materiel losses inflicted on the Red invaders in South Korea.

The extent of these enemy losses was further reflected late Wednesday in an announcement by Gen. MacArthur's headquarters spokesman that 25,000 North Korean men and officers have been taken prisoner.

Since the war began last June 25th.

Some 19,000 of these were captured only in the last ten or twelve days, the spokesman said.

The crew of an American B-29 Superfort which flew a night reconnaissance mission before dawn Wednesday reported it spotted increased enemy movements along North Korea's east coast above Wonsan.

To Defend Wonsan
South Korean intelligence officers predicted the Communists will put up a vigorous defense of that important harbor, industrial and rail city.

Prepared enemy defenses were reported thrown across the eastern shoreline railroad and highway about 25 to 30 miles southeast of Wonsan.

The speed and ease with which the ROK (Republican of Korea) Third Division raced up the North Korean east coast to and beyond Kosong generated increasing misgivings concerning the enemy's intentions.

Field dispatches quoted American military advisors with the South Koreans as expressing fear of a possible Red flanking thrust from the inland hills that would threaten to cut off the ROK Third Division's spearheads.

Increased Caution
Accordingly, the South Korean advance up the coast was proceeding with increased caution.

The ROK Capitol Division farther inland, had thrust into North Korea some 15 miles north of the 38th parallel by Tuesday evening.

It was bringing up its full forces to safeguard the west flank of the Third Division and simultaneously broaden the front of the counter-drive into the enemy's heartland.

Far to the southwest, meanwhile, the North Korean high command hurled newly committed units into heavy delaying actions against American forces north of Seoul and below the parallel boundary.

Two New Divisions
Gen. MacArthur's headquarters briefing officer disclosed that two crack North Korean army units—the 17th Division and the 27th Brigade—now have been identified as "in action for the first time."

The Communist 17th Division, the spokesman said, defended the five-way hub of Uijongbu against the U. S. First Marine Division which captured the city late Tuesday.

This enemy division gave the Leathernecks the stiffest opposition they have encountered since the violent battle which resulted in the liberation of Seoul, the South Korean capital.

The headquarters officer described the Red 17th Division as well-trained and determined troops that fought from prepared positions in defending Uijongbu.

In addition, the spokesman said, three heavy machine gun battalions of the Red 27th Brigade were opposing the American push north of Seoul toward the artificial border between South and North Korea. This indicated the whole brigade consists of heavy machine gun troops.

Clen-Moore Unit Has Dinner Party

Members of the Clen-Moore P. T. A. held their first fall meeting on Tuesday evening in the form of a tureen dinner at the school. Fall flowers decorated the tables for the occasion.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Ida Shreckengast, with new teachers, members, and their families present.

Thomas Smathers, principal, welcomed the new teachers, Mrs. Bernice Bender of the first grade, Mrs. Theda Heanon second grade teacher, and Mrs. Lucy Sargent, third and fourth grades, were greeted as former teachers at the school.

Mrs. Paul Martin, program chairman of the County Council of P. T. A., as guest speaker of the dinner-meeting. She presented an informative discussion on the "Objects of P. T. A."

New committee heads were announced, with Mrs. William Johns heading the ways and means committee; Mrs. Paul Martin, program; and Mrs. Ida Shreckengast, hostess.

A discussion was held on the course on "Home Care of the Sick" being offered by the local Red Cross. It was also announced that the State Convention of P. T. A. would be held in Pittsburgh on October 11, 12 and 13.

Hostesses for the evening included Mr. and Mrs. James Kegarse, Mrs. J. C. Read, Mr. and Mrs.

Harry Hasely, and Mrs. Claude C. Crill.

The next meeting of the unit will be held at the school on November 14.

TOMATO JUICE

Congressman States Future Is Not Bright

Speaking before the Lions Club at its weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton Tuesday noon, Congressman Louis E. Graham, of Beaver, painted a rather grim picture of the future for the United States.

Congressman Graham spoke about some of the legislation passed by the recent Congress, and of some that is on the agenda when Congress resumes again in November.

He stated that statehood would undoubtedly be granted Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands, and that an excess profits tax would be bitterly fought over after Congress resumes.

Things Will Be Worse
Things will also get much worse than they are at the present before they get better, Mr. Graham stated. The Chinese Communists have massed five million trained men, and any day a situation may develop which will involve us in open warfare with them.

Russia, he stated, is unquestionably furnishing war material to the Chinese Communists, who in turn are passing it on to the North Koreans. Russia is in this battle as far as she can get, and if they can get the Chinese Communists to fight us, they will.

The United States is going to have an army of at least three million men and the reserves are going to be called back into service. We are going to have to protect our outside borders, and it looks very much like we are going to have universal military training, the Congressman pointed out.

Our present dollar was worth only sixty cents before the Korean war, and increased inflation which it touched off has brought it down to 56 cents. The Canadian dollar on the other hand, has increased in value.

Indebtedness Grows
Approximately fifty-eight billions of indebtedness has been added onto the two hundred and fifty-seven billions we owed before the Korean war started, making the present per capita indebtedness $1.700.

Three things, he pointed out for the future, were that the length of the present Korean war will determine how far we must go in preparedness; and second, how much will the government do to cut down our present indebtedness; and third, how long can we carry the other countries of the world around on our backs.

Congressman Graham stated that he had opposed adding seventeen billions more onto our Marshall aid plan because he did not like the attitude of the State Department, and felt that some of the things the money would be spent for, would be downright wasteful.

Mr. Graham stated that he had talked with an American officer who had served as a major general in the Chinese Nationalist Army, and that he had stated that everyone in America should get down on their knees and pray that General MacArthur can remain in command of the situation in the Far East, as he is the only man who knows what is going on there, and how to handle the situation. As long as he is in charge, the situation will be well in hand.

Warns Of Communists
He concluded his talk with a threat of Communism. There are close to 5,000 convicts in this country who should be deported, but who cannot be, because they are not acceptable to their native lands, and who are potential saboteurs. J. Edgar Hoover places the number at twice that figure, he stated. There are a lot of people who do not like the idea of creating concentration camps to hold these men in check, but as long as they are allowed to run loose, they are a threat to the security of our nation.

He stated that we do not need to be stampeded into fear, but we do need to be continually on guard against these people.

If there is going to be an attack on this country, and Russian planes are only sixteen hours away from New York City, and they have an air force of 18,000; the Ohio, Beaver, Mahoning, and Shenango Valley will be the first to be hit. Jet planes fly over Washington so fast, the eye can hardly follow them. These with guided missiles makes nothing secure any more, he stated.

Finally he urged that we must not be complacent and must be prepared for greater sacrifices and denials than we have ever made before, and that we should get down on our knees and pray continually for the hastening of peace.

Howard Buckham, of the Oil City Lions club, spoke to the club about a money raising feature which has been successful with the Oil City club, and which the ways and means committee urged be adopted by the local club.

Other guests included Fred H. Ande, of Oil City, past district governor; Francis R. Maffei, Jr., of Butler; and Robert E. Dempsey, of Youngstown.

U P Rally At Highland On Saturday

"Report to the People" will be the theme of a regional rally for United Presbyterians that will take place Saturday, Oct. 7, at Highland U. P. church, Highland at Park avenue. Registration will begin at one o'clock and the evening session will close at nine o'clock.

A worthwhile program in the workshop manner has been planned. Booths and pictorial exhibits will be features of the rally.

Those participating in the program include secretaries of various boards of the U. P. church. Those who should attend are the following: ministers, laymen, members of session, trustees and representatives of missionary societies. In fact, the regional meeting is for any church member who is interested in the church's program.

The rally is a co-operative venture by the budget boards of the denomination to carry the message of their work directly to the people. It will provide a true, up-to-the-minute picture of the task that has been assigned to the board of American missions, board of administration, board of Christian education, board of foreign missions and board of ministerial pensions and relief.

Dinner will be served in the evening. Reservations for the meal are to be in by this evening to Dr. Jennings B. Reid, pastor of Highland church.

Marines Appear On Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(INS)—The marines appear on Capitol Hill today for the first time since President Truman surrendered to them.

Spokesmen for the leathernecks are slated to testify before the House Armed Services committee to conclude a series of hearings on the manpower needs of the armed services, which are aiming at reaching a goal of three million men.

The appearance of the Marine Corps spokesmen is their first since President Truman termed them the navy's "police force" with a "greater propaganda machine than Stalin's."

The chief executive apologized publicly to the marines for his statements contained in a letter to Rep. McDonough (R) Calif.

City Hall

Councilmen Start Work On City Budget

Members of city council met in city hall Tuesday and began the task of compiling appropriations for the operation of the city during 1951, without increasing property tax.

It will be a strenuous job, it was indicated after colleagues heard Finance Director Albert A. Hoyland outline what required needs would cost and receipts anticipated from taxation.

He pointed out that—Councilmen had submitted tentative drafts of their needs which if adopted would cost $1,067,324.95, while property and wage taxes would bring the city only $894,437. And the $1,067,324.95, contains no amount for an increase of wages to city employees. It is anticipated that at least $60,000, will be needed to raise wages.

Property Tax 10 Mills

At present the property tax is 10 mills. However, of this levy, the city realizes for general revenue, only 8 1/2 mills, the remainder being applied to Sinking fund and library board purposes.

The school board has been getting 3 1/2 mills from the wage tax but in 1951, the city will net 6 mills for the first six months, and five mills for the second six months, or an average of 5 1/2 mills.

Hence, according to Finance Director Hoyland, receipts anticipated from property, wage tax, and various other functions, such as parking meters, fines and licenses, $894,437.

Mayor John F. Haven and Councilmen Richard Davis, E. Gene Schweinsberg and Joe Medure sat down with Mr. Hoyland while he studied their stated needs.

Wants Six Policemen

Mayor John F. Haven said he would like to add six men to the police force. He plans on trading in three police cars for new machines and also buying an inexpensive truck to haul dogs to the city pound.

Councilman Richard I. Davis said he would like to have $14,000, for a new fire truck to replace a fire truck of 1913 vintage at No. 3 fire house.

Mr. Davis also said he would like to have five new firemen so firemen may work a 60 hours week, instead of a 67 hours week at present. Their cost was not included in his departmental budget.

Finance Director Albert Hoyland will need $5,500 for the salaries of two tax assessors because the triennial assessment is to be made next year. Ten thousand dollars will be needed to pay the wages of extra clerks.

Council went through the proposed appropriations and upon recommendations, usually expressed by the head of the department lopped off various sums in an effort to cut down their proposed needs.

Council continued their task today, the main idea being to prevent a raise in property taxation.

Your New Social Security

By MYRON MILBOUER
(Manager of the New Castle Social Security Office)

(NUMBER 3)

"I was first covered by the social security law in 1950. How long will it be before I will be insured?"

That's a question our, and other social security offices are being asked every day since the amended Social Security Act became a law.

In most cases, the answer is a year and a half for survivors' insurance, longer to qualify for old-age insurance payments if you're not already aged 65 or over.

The amended law makes provision for a new benefit formula for workers retiring in the future. This formula is applicable to those who have at least six calendar quarters of coverage after 1950. Under the old law one-half the number of calendar quarters since 1936 were required quarters of coverage.

For example a person aged 65 or over at the time the amended Social Security Act became a law, would be fully insured for benefit payments on his sixty-fifth birthday if he had at least six quarters of coverage. That would be one-half of the elapsed quarters since 1950. Let us assume that he did not earn six quarters of coverage in that period but had earned sufficient quarters of coverage before 1950 to make a total of six. He would still be fully insured at age 65.

A "quarter of coverage" is a calendar quarter. For social security purposes the year is divided into four quarters, January through March, April through June, July through September, and October through December are calendar quarters.

As in the old law, no more than forty quarters of coverage can be required for a fully insured status and the required amount of earned wages in a calendar quarter remains at the $50 minimum. The maximum annual wages to be counted toward social security, however, has been raised from $3,000 to $3,600.

It is the six quarters of coverage provision of the new law that will give immediate or early old-age and survivors insurance protection to numbers of workers not qualified for social security before. Many people now 65 or over will be enabled to draw retirement benefit payments right away. Some people who filed a social security claim under the old law but did not have enough social security credit to qualify them, may now be eligible for payments. We are making efforts to get in touch with all such persons in this area. Workers in groups coming under social security for the first time in January will be enabled to qualify much more quickly. In the three counties served by our field office, we expect to pay insurance benefits to 4,000 more people in 1951.

In my next, and following articles, I shall discuss the several groups of workers making up the 9,700,000 to whom federal social security will be extended beginning on the first of January.

Soviet Satellite Diplomatic Sources Circulate Rumors

PARIS, Oct. 4.—(INS)—Soviet satellite diplomatic sources circulated rumors today that Russian forces are moving up from Siberian bases toward the Manchurian frontier of Red China.

The Manchurian and Soviet frontiers meet near the north-eastern tip of North Korea.

The rumors, which found no confirmation in official western diplomatic quarters, said that the Russian forces included one armored and one infantry division.

They also said two Soviet motorized divisions arrived at Vladivostok from Siberian bases.

According to the same satellite sources, an important Soviet-Chinese conference has been set up at Moscow to study the situation arising from the crossing of Korea's 38th parallel by South Korean troops.

Western diplomatic officials expressed the belief the rumors of Soviet troop movements should be treated with reserve since they merely may be part of a propaganda effort to influence consideration of Korean peace plans by the U. N. general assembly.

It takes the average person 10 1/2 seconds to cross the average street.

Millions More Needed For Arms Program

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(INS)—The air force said Tuesday that an additional 315 to 360 million dollars will be required to offset rising prices in the military airplane expansion program.

Air Force Undersecretary John McCone told the house armed services committee that 750 jet fighter planes would be knocked out of the program if the increased costs were concentrated in one plane. He said, however, that the extra costs would be spread over the entire program.

Chairman Vinson (D) Ga., commented that "then congress will have to do one of two things—control prices or appropriate more money to meet the constantly rising prices".

McCone also told the committee:

1. The "24 most critical" radar stations in the nation's air defense warning system will be completed by Jan. 1, and will be in full operation by March 1.

2. More than 100 million dollars will be spent in building up the aircraft industry to meet the 1953 goal of 69 air groups.

3. Recent strikes at the General Electric Co., and the Goodrich Tire and Rubber Co., threatened to delay the air program and the air force will use its power under the draft law to curb walkouts if necessary.

C.A.P. Members In Parachute Jumps

Residents of New Castle were treated to a spectacular sight over the past weekend at the New Castle airport when two Civil Air Patrol pilots Charles Mills and John Hughes made parachute jumps. The jumps were a novelty for both men and the crowd, as it was the first jump for either man.

Hughes was the only man originally scheduled to jump and for awhile it was thought that the event would be cancelled due to hazy weather. But in order not to disappoint the crowd, Hughes decided to make the jump in spite of the weather. The plane piloted by Joseph Gargasz, was taken up to 3,000 feet and after a little difficulty, in judging the right spot, Hughes jumped, making a landing on the north runway.

Charles Miller, one of the spectators, remarked that it looked quite easy and a friend standing nearby challenged him. And before too long, Mills had on a chute and was being taxied down the field in the same plane, with the same pilot. A car wasn't needed to pick up Mills, as he gave the crowd quite a thrill by landing about 50 yards in front of them. Both boys were given much applause by the crowd.

Weather permitting, two more jumps will be made by C.A.P. members on October 15 at the airport with all citizens invited to attend. The regular C.A.P. meeting is planned for this evening, at the Deshon annex at 7:30 o'clock. Transportation may be secured by calling 9316 after 7 p.m.

Members of the A. B. D. Society of First Presbyterian church had their initial session of the fall and winter season Tuesday evening, when they gathered at the home of Mrs. Ernest Stitzinger, Hazelcroft avenue.

A delicious turkey dinner was served by the following committee: Mrs. Arthur Foster, Mrs. James B. Matthews, Mrs. Frank Offutt, Mrs. Ross Rosenberger, and Mrs. Loy Patterson.

After serving, Mrs. Frank Orth led devotions, using "Peace" as her theme.

Later Dr. Arthur Foster gave an informative talk on "Panama," illustrating it with colored pictures.

The society will assemble Tuesday evening, November 7, in First Presbyterian church.

C. B. Club To Meet
Members of the C. B. club will gather this evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Houston, Winter avenue.

R. D. W. Club Dines

Members of the R. D. W. club enjoyed a delicious dinner at a suburban dining room on a recent evening.

Civil Court Opens Monday

Heavy Case List Melting Away

October's term of civil court opens Monday, October 9 with the possibility that what appeared to be a heavy term will be much lighter than anticipated.

The case list began coming apart at the seams several days ago. Some cases have been settled. Others are in process of settlement and by Monday morning the list is expected to be down to the usual short term.

ABOUT POLITICS

Politics seems to be waking from a state of lethargy in the past few days. United States Senator Francis J. Myers will be in New Castle on October 11 to attend a mass meeting and address a luncheon.

Sometime near October 15 the Republican county committee will meet to plan the campaign. County Chairman Frank L. Coen said today. The election will be held on November 7 little more than a month away.

CASES ENTERED

The following cases have been entered for trial in the December term of civil court.

Harry Ray Showalter enters a suit against Elmer Sciarazzo for damages to his automobile on May 8, 1950. His son was driving his car when it was struck by a car of the defendant on South Mercer street.

John Farnor of Campbell, O. enters a mechanics lien against Dominick and Lucy Romeo of Mahoning township in the amount of $417.15. The plaintiff claims he did work in that amount for the defendants.

Edward Chadderton of Mercer county files a suit against the Kro-

September Fire Damage Slight

Fire losses during September were extremely light, the report of Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink reveals. Only 20 alarms were answered during the month, of which 14 were telephoned alarms. The total fire damage was $335, of which amount $210 was to automobiles and $125 to buildings.

Of the 20 alarms, five were for grass fires, three for autos, and four were false. The valuation of homes involved in fires was $20,000.

Fire calls to date have totalled 339 for the year, the fire chief states.

The United States, according to a recent estimate, has access to a known iron ore reserve of 8,096 million gross tons.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CEEF

Hugh Walpole was a dangerous man to call upon for a speech at any banquet. He spoke fluently but interminably. He was going on and on at a booksellers' convention one Tuesday evening when somebody whispered to his publisher, George Doran, "What follows Walpole?" Doran answered, "Thursday."

In Dayton, O., an official of a widely ballyhooed "traffic safety week" concluded a ringing speech on the subject, climbed into her car, ran smack into a taxi, and was carried back into the lecture hall with a broken leg. And in the tenement district of New York a welfare worker tried to persuade a young mother to let her two-year-old get a little fresh air on the fire escape. "It's absolutely safe," she assured the skeptical mother. "I'll show you myself." She climbed out on to the fire escape fell down three flights, and spent the next month in Lenox Hill hospital.

Don't be

by VALDA SHERMAN

Many mysterious changes take place in your body as you mature. Now, the glands under your arms begin to secrete daily a new type of perspiration containing substances which will—if they reach your dress—cause ugly stains and clinging odor.

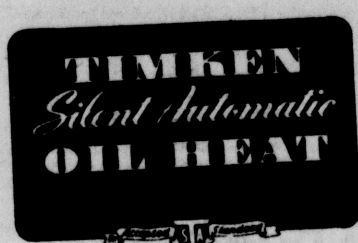

You'll face this problem throughout womanhood. It's not enough merely to stop the odor of this perspiration. You must now use a deodorant that stops the perspiration itself before it reaches—and ruins—your clothes.

As doctors know, not all deodorants stop both perspiration and odor. But Arrid does! It's been proved that the new cream deodorant Arrid stops underarm perspiration 1 to 3 days safely—keeps underarms dry and sweet.

Remember this, too: Arrid's antiseptic action kills odor on contact—prevents formation of odor up to 48 hours and keeps you "shower-bath" fresh. And it's safe for skin—safe for fabrics.

So, don't be half-safe. Don't risk your happiness with half-safe deodorants. Be Arrid-safe! Use Arrid to be sure. Arrid with Creamogen will not dry out, and it's so pleasant and easy to apply. Get Arrid today—only 39¢ plus tax.

Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Penny: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. A. W.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance. Try this Houbigant Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.75 plus tax at better stores.

Tall Cedars To Be Instituted

New Lodge Will Be Started October 21

In response to a petition signed by more than 100 Master Masons in New Castle, and its environs, a new lodge of the Tall Cedars of Lebanon of the United States, to be known as La-Me-Bu Forest, will be formally instituted in that city on October 21 by Supreme Tall Cedar William F. Schmidt, of Staten Island, N. Y., and his complete staff of officers.

P. M. Pattison will be the Grand Tall Cedar of New Castle's La-Me-Bu Forest, Robert A. Loudon, Scribe, and James E. Peacock, Treasurer, of the new unit of the national organization.

The ceremonies will include a colorful parade of bands, rangers and other uniformed units from nearby Forests. The formal institutional ceremonies will be conducted by the Prologue and Royal Court teams of the candidates in the fun sections of degree work.

The officers of the New Castle Forest were obligated in a mammoth open air ceremony conducted by Westmorland Forest No. 77, in Idlewild Park, Pa., on September 6. Governor Duff, a member of Al-O-Mon Forest, took an active part in that ceremonial.

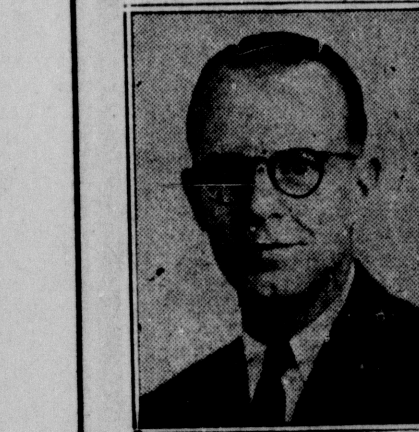

La-Me-Bu Forest is the 144th Forest of the Tall Cedars of Lebanon to be chartered since 1902, when the organization was incorporated in New Jersey. Its growth has been phenomenal, particularly in the states of Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia, with some Forests registering a membership running into the thousands. Cedarism, like masonry itself, dates back to the building of Solomon's Temple of Biblical days, and has for its objective the welding of Master Masons into closer and even more friendly relationships with its wholesome fun and good fellowship.

Ecumenical Funds To Be Used Wisely

Women of Christian churches of Lawrence county will be enrolled in an ecumenical register next week. The ecumenical register first was started in Los Angeles, Calif. During the registration women will be listed by names, addresses and denominations. The local panel of the United Council of Church Women, of which Mrs. J. F. Rentz is chairman, expects to register 1,500 in this county. This group will be part of the first million women to be registered in all of the United States.

By enrolling the women will show they are willing to "stand up and be counted" for their interest in the ecumenical movement—the movement for Christian unity in the whole world. Ecumenical is a word derived from the Greek word for household, meaning in Christian usage the "whole household of God, all nations and all branches of the church."

When a woman signs the ecumenical card, she contributes a dollar. These dedicated dollars will be used for projects that have been postponed before on account of the lack of money. And will also be given to the states to enable their councils to grow in Christian usefulness. The sphere of women's work in the church will be enlarged. Aid will also be given to the World Council of Churches through the Commission of Women's Work.

The money that is contributed will be the givers' dedication to Christian cooperation and will help church women across the country to do more effective work. Public interest in the ecumenical movement will also be increased.

Hopewell Church Members Ready To Observe Sesqui

HOPEWELL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Hopewell Presbyterian church at New Bedford will commemorate 150 years of church history with a week long celebration October 8 to October 15.

In 1797 the men and women who began to settle this area were from the most part pioneers who came here from Washington county, Pa. In 1800 the Constitution of Hopewell Presbyterian church was drafted by James Walker. There were seventeen charter members but during the next three years the membership was greatly increased as a revival of religion swept over the whole county.

Two Log Churches
Prior to the present church building there were two log churches and one frame church. All of these have stood on about the same location and through the years have been a landmark as the churches on the point between two roads. The first log building was erected in 1804 and served as both a church and a school. The first frame building was 40' by 50' and cost $1000. Although very plain our ancestors were highly satisfied with the new building and proposed that it not be polluted with quids and tobacco spit.

The present church building as seen in the picture was erected in 1892 and was dedicated free of debt in 1893 having cost $7000. On Friday evening, Oct. 13, at 8:00 p.m. there will be a rededication service with Dr. J. W. Creighton of Westminster college as the principal speaker. Dr. Creighton supplied this church several years ago. There are two daughter churches of Hopewell, namely Coitsville and Pulaski Presbyterian. Both were organized in 1837.

The slavery question caused a split in the church when a Free church was organized and a building erected nearby. Following the Civil War the two churches united.

First Pastor
The first pastor was a Rev. Wm. Wick who served both Hopewell and Neshaunock at New Wilmington. Since then there have been thirteen pastors and a number of supplies all of whom have served the congregation unstintingly. The present pastor, Rev. O. Sloan Whitacre, with his wife and two children came here from Bell Valley Presbyterian church at Erie in March of this year.

In the past several years improvements have been made on the mansé and the church. A new church dining room and kitchen

Build Up Your Starved Blood; Feel Fine Quick

Certa-Vin Enriches Your Blood With Iron; Builds Stronger Nerves With Vitamin B; Relieves Gassy Stomach; Try This New Formula for Only a Few Cents a Day.

Science has learned that too little hemoglobin (red coloring matter in blood) slows down energy and robs many people of that "healthy look."

Some victims scarcely know what is wrong with them. They feel like they are tied to a log, very time they try to do something. Their blood cells are shrunken or faded-out. This is BLOOD STARVATION. Such persons wonder why tonics fail them—why they have to be half-sick and half-well—why they can't have their full share of energy.

Works With Your Food
Such discouraged people will now find—in CERTA-VIN—two liquid elements that regenerate Red Blood Cells. This new formula is taken before meals and works with your food. Thus your food digests faster and better, with less gas and bloating, so you get the fullest good out of your meals. Soon your watery blood is enriched with iron and your nerves are energized with Vitamin B. Your red blood count goes up, and you feel better all over.

Benefit comes quickly, usually within 3 or 4 days. And the price of CERTA-VIN is reasonable. You can actually take this new medicine for a Few Cents a Day! So if you are a victim of blood poverty, gassy stomach, or lack vitality, don't go on suffering. Get CERTA-VIN at all leading Drug Stores of New Castle.

STAMP CLUB NEWS

New Castle Stamp club members will meet Thursday, Oct. 5 at the Y.M.C.A. at 8 p.m. with president, John Hitch in charge. Plans will be discussed for the coming stamp show. It is hoped that many will be on hand for the event. A new game, made by Stan Presner, was enjoyed at the last meeting and he will have it at this coming meeting.

JAYNE'S P-W tablets KILL PIN-WORMS

(You may have them and not know it)

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... dirty parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

The State Department made public an exchange of notes between Secretary of State Acheson on behalf of the North Atlantic Treaty Council, and Turkish Ambassador Feridun C. Erkin, confirming the arrangement.

Production at the mills, which employ approximately 10,000 workers, was snarled for the third straight day when the midnight shift was sent home this morning. Only three departments reported for work.

Yankees Heavy Favorites As 1950 World Series Starts Today

Konstanty And Raschi Are Starting Hurlers

By CHARLES EINHORN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—The all-time champions and the all-time non-champions of world series history broke open the 1950 classic today with a sad-faced Napoleon from the bullpen carrying Philadelphia's defiant hopes against baseball's mightiest—the Yankees.

Backed by a fantastic record of winning 55 world series games to the Phillies' one, the gray-lad New Yorker took the field today at 8 to 5 to win the opener and 13 to 5 to win the series.

Jim Konstanty, inevitable reliever making his first start since he was with Toronto in 1948, trudged to the pitching mound for the Phils at one o'clock EST this afternoon, all the horrors of the past were forgotten. Vic Raschi was the Yankee hurler.

Whiz Kids Eager

For the Phillies are not the old Phillies. They are the Whiz Kids, the flaming youngsters in the peppermint-stick suits, who brought their fans a pennant where no pennant had been for 35 years. And the Whiz Kids—let no man say different in this town—can do anything.

Can they beat the Yankees' big, 21-game winning Vic Raschi today? Sure they can. You think these fans, fighting for tickets till they soared to an unbelievable $70 apiece in the hands of speculators, are jamming their way into sorry old Shibe Park just to see them lose?

There'll be an overflow 34,000 wedged into the Shibe seats this cloudy day, harbinger of another wedged home tomorrow. When the business moves to New York's monster Yankee Stadium for games Friday, Saturday and (if) Sunday, the crowds will jump to 67,000 a whack.

Should Set Record

Philadelphia gets the sixth and seventh games, if the best-four-of-seven set goes that far, but regardless of its duration the 1950 event should set an all-time receipts record.

Starting the game tomorrow will be Robin Roberts, 20-game winning righty whose ten-inning conquest of Brooklyn Sunday won the pennant for the Phils at the final hour, when it seemed they could do nothing right.

For the Yankees, fireballing righthander Allie Reynolds is supposed to work tomorrow's game.

McKeesport One Of Remaining AA Championship Contenders

New Castle high school's Friday night football opponent—the McKeesport Tigers—are one of the eleven remaining undefeated, untied WPIAL class AA teams.

Twisted in their bid for the AA title last year by the Red Hurricanes, the McKeesport Bengals, a little tougher variety of Tiger than the Sharon Tiger, are really after a win over the Cane this year.

McKeesport has already dumped one of the best AA contenders—Aiquippa—besides knocking off Glassport, Central Catholic and Clifton. After the game Friday night with New Castle the Tigers face: Johnstown, Duquesne, Allentown, Jeannette, Ambridge and Boys Town, Neb., in that order.

Johnstown, Duquesne and Ambridge are also undefeated in AA competition and Allentown and Boys Town are not regarded as pushovers.

New Castle's elimination from the AA race by Latrobe takes a good deal of the pressure off the Cane and puts it on the Tigers.

Cane Underdogs

This will be the first game of the season that the Red and Black has gone into a game as definite underdogs.

Both teams have only five men back that played in last year's championship tilt, but McKeesport has come up with a great supply of reserve material.

Biggest backfield threats are Don McCauley, Kenny Mikell and Robbie Seitz. Seitz scored both McKeesport touchdowns against Clairton last week. McCauley passed for both touchdowns in the Glassport game. Mikell scored two and sub-back Ducky Gilmore scored two against Central Catholic. One of Gilmore's came on an 80-yard return of the second half kickoff.

Against Aiquippa Seitz went over twice on line bucks. Mikell once and McCauley once, both on 1-yard bucks.

New Castle high school spent most of its time Tuesday afternoon getting itself acquainted with McKeesport plays.

Hurricane Breezes

Official attendance at the John Adams game was 8938 instead of 6300 as was reported Tuesday. Farrell, next week's opponent has an open date this week.

McKeesport's ace point-after-touchdown man, Puck Jones, has been dropped from the Tiger squad for fear of aggravating an eye injury.

'Keep McCauley Covered' Grid Scouts Advise

McKeesport "Quarter" Fast, Smart And He Hits Runners Hard

Watch McCauley, quarterback for McKeesport!

This was the warning advice of Assistant Grid Coach George Binder of New Castle to several members of the Bridenbaugh machine and 75 members of the Quarterback Club of the Elks at a steak dinner in the Elks home last night.

Binder scouted McKeesport in games against Clairton and Aliquippa and warned that McKeesport has a good team.

He forecasts that "if New Castle plays 'heads up' ball, the line holds up and keeps McCauley from breaking into the open, the game will be close, with 'breaks' probably deciding the winner."

"However," he admonished "if McCauley gets into the open no one will be able to catch him." He is the smallest player on the invading team, runs like a cheetah and tackles hard.

But Kennedy, who with Austin Cowmeadow chairs the QBC, opened the dinner talkfest by welcoming back Bernie Hanlon, a member who has been "benched" owing to an operation and convalescence.

Players Optimistic

He made appropriate opening remarks then introduced Left End Bill Boak and Halfback Ray Lasko, both of whom said that, while they expect a tough game, they are optimistic.

In addition, Lasko remarked, "McKeesport is coming to beat us. Our line has improved and I do not believe they will. However, we will face a formidable team and we have a tough game ahead."

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh said he hoped McKeesport is no tougher than last year, when Ne-Ca-Hi won. "Some believed we were lucky last year. I don't think so. Ne-Ca-Hi deserved to win," he remarked.

"This year McKeesport has a good running and passing attack and this means everything," said the coach whose teams during several years has brought grid fame here.

Team Handicapped

He spoke of the handicap the team faced by lack of good reserves this year, said that reserves are needed and added that every member may have to be an "iron man" this season.

Assistant Coach Bill Klee recited humorous incidents which occur while helping direct play in games, after which he said that game by game Ne-Ca-Hi is improving.

"We are not yet pleased. The boys lack experience, but you won't be ashamed of the team at the end of the season," Klee concluded.

Binder, in detailing plays McKeesport used against Clairton and Aliquippa, added that the visitors use a quarterback sneak and that McCauley either laterals or goes off tackle.

"It is cool and deliberate and passes well," said Binder, who also warned that the Red and Black should be very wary of Mikell, who is a good, fast, right halfback.

Takes Advantage of 'Breaks'

Binder finished by stating that "McKeesport makes their own 'breaks,' takes advantage of them and when they hit, they hit hard."

Realizing that non-Elks, fired with football fever, would like to attend the Quarterback Club dinner talkfest, where the "inside" of games, past and future, are learned, Co-Chairman Cowmeadow said: "The committee believes it appropriate that every member of the club has the privilege of bringing a non-Elk who like football to next Tuesday evening's dinner."

Bessemer Schedules Unbeaten Bell Twp.

Bessemer high will play Bell township under the lights at the Cemetery field, Saturday night, Oct. 21, at 8:00 p. m.

The date had been one of two open on Bessemer's football calendar and will now be filled by one of class B's most rugged football teams.

Bell township has a record of 17 straight wins and is coached by a former team-mate of Willie Ciccone, present Bessemer coach. Ciccone and assistant coach Eddis Meighan, played together at West Virginia Wesleyan. Bell township is located at Salina, Pa., in Westmoreland county.

A contract stipulation requires him to weigh-in at 161 or less and there are indications he may have trouble meeting the limit.

George Gainsford, Burton's manager, has threatened to call off the fight if Rocky is overweight. Burton is expected to weigh 147 pounds.

Graziano hopes to score an impressive victory over Burton to get a shot at Burton's stablemate, Ray Robinson, the welterweight champion.

Rocky Graziano Fights Tonight

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—(INS)—Rocky Graziano, shock-haired ex-middleweight titleholder, faces two foes in Chicago today and if he loses to the first may find the second putting up no contest.

Rocky, scheduled for a 10-round bout with Gene Burton in the stadium this evening, first must lick the scales.

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA Federation of Coon Hunters, Field Trial association, will hold a field trial at their new grounds at Sheaksville, Saturday. The new grounds, over which no dog ever ran, is along Route 19. Signs have been placed denoting the location of the course. First line and first tree dogs in each heat will qualify for first final. There will be three finals and two heat monies. No dog will be permitted in finals in the same class and dogs can only qualify for first line and first tree. Dog that runs second or third heat and wins tree in heat can only run in tree finals. Paul Hunter will be field marshal. . . . Bill Dumer, boxing promoter, and who also staged other athletic events in Pittsburgh, and more recently in Youngstown, has been laid to rest in Pittsburgh. He was a salesman of paint for years, and called on city officials at different periods of the year. . . . This is the time of year when hikers are in their delight, tramping through field and thicket, all dolled in autumn colors. . . . Joe Louis says he may continue fighting. He should permit the younger men to carry on. Joe had a great career and no one wishes to see him converted into a human punching bag. . . . Talking about age. Some men around 50 cannot get a job and others must quit at 65. Apparently, governments have a different idea. General MacArthur is 70, Secretary of Defense George Marshall is 69, and Winston Churchill is 70. It is quite evident that governments appreciate experience.

IT WON'T BE LONG until Joe Rick returns to the Rick Stock Farm with his trotters and pacers which campaigned throughout the summer. Jim Hodge, the Harlansburg outdoorsman, after taking note of a large part of a field on the Ray Stoughton farm being torn up, remarked: "Two 'bucks' must have met head-on." He reports many foxes are running free in that district. . . . Carl Wallace is running his dog, preparatory to the bird season. . . . Joe Fracul, the efficient member of the Recreation commission's staff, is back on the job, following a vacation. . . . When one of the wrestlers accidentally punched Mickie Solomon, wrestling referee, who once was a good middleweight, Mickie squared off as though he was in the ring with Buck McTiernan. . . . One of the best mat acts which could be staged here would be between Mr. America and Jungle Boy. . . . In explanation of his pre-Sharon report of scouting, Art Alexander says: "Possibly New Castle did so good because they were advised as to what plays Sharon would use." . . . In this day Eddie Connery was a good grider for the Red and Black.

Hopp, Thompson, Mayo Made Eligible For Series Games

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—(INS)—Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler's office announced Tuesday that the Phillies and the New York Yankees have agreed on three substitute players for the world series clashes.

Chandler said the Phillies agreed to permit the Yankees to use Johnny Hopp, outfielder-first baseman, in place of injured Tommy Heinrich.

In exchange, the Phillies will use left-handed Pitcher Jocko Thompson for Curt Simmons, now in the army, and outfielder Jack Mayo for Bill Nicholson, sidelined with diabetes.
